BROWN'S
IRON
BITTERS
— THE BEST TONIC. —

PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.

This medicine, combining Iron with pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Neuralgia.

It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives.

It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do.

It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves Heartburn and Belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.

For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it has no equal.

— The genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other.

AT JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY HEARTILY WELCOMED.

After a Parade Around the City the Party Go to the Sub-Tropical Exposition Buildings—Grand Reception Held in the Evening at the Hotel.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 24.

OR some time the people of this city have been preparing for the arrival of the presidential party. The presidential train arrived here yesterday afternoon, and was greeted with a salute of twenty-one guns and the acclamations of an immense concourse of people. The party was escorted to the St. James hotel by the state militia, the reception committee in carriages and a band playing patriotic airs. Mayor Barbridge rode in the carriage with the president and Mrs. Cleveland, which was decorated with flowers and evergreens. At 1:30 o'clock, after the presidential party had taken lunch, the marshal of the day, Maj. Harkishimer, with twenty aids, formed the procession in the following order:

First division—Police in platoons, the marshal and his aids, the band of the First Florida battalion, the presidential party in carriages, the carriage of the president and Mrs. Cleveland being drawn by six black horses; Wilson's battery mounted as a special escort to the president, the Second Florida battalion, the congressional party in carriages, the press association in carriages, invited guests in carriages.

Second division—Key West band of colored men, the Uniformed Knights of Pythias, the Independent Order of Red Men, the Perry guards of the colored state militia, the Duval guards of the colored state militia, Jacksonville Typographical Union, No. 162, and the Jacksonville fire department.

Other organizations and citizens generally followed. The line of March was along the principal streets, which were gay with decorations, of all kinds, including evergreens, bunting, festoons of oranges and orange flowers. Masses of people in holiday attire lined the route, and it is estimated that 100,000 citizens and visitors witnessed the procession, including thousands of northern tourists.

THE MAIN EXPOSITION BUILDING.

On the arrival of the procession at the exposition building another salute of twenty-one guns was fired. The president, Mrs. Cleveland and their party and the visiting congressmen were met at the north entrance by the reception committee of the sub-tropical exposition, with Director General Paine and the officers of the association, and were escorted to the platform in front of the north galleries. The other guests were escorted to the south gallery. The military then entered and stacked arms, except the guards on duty.

Seats were provided on the platform for representatives of the city, state and United States governments, distinguished citizens and committees. When the president, Mrs. Cleveland and the accompanying guests were seated, Col. J. J. Daniel delivered an address, in which he welcomed the president and Mrs. Cleveland to Florida, in behalf of the sub-tropical exposition and its management, the city of Jacksonville, the board of trade, and the state of Florida and her people.

Col. Daniel's speech was warmly applauded. When quiet had been restored the president arose and made a short speech thanking them for their manifestations of welcome and closed by saying:

"I intend that during my brief visit to you official cares shall give way to freedom, which you invite, in the hope and expectation that with the large conception of greatness and beauty of my country which I shall here acquire I shall return to my post of duty better able to serve you and my fellow-citizens."

The president's speech was greeted with the most vociferous and long-continued applause.

President Cleveland resumed his seat, but the applause and cheering continued to break out anew at short intervals, and at length Mr. C. H. Jones stepped forward to the president and suggested that the people desired to see Mrs. Cleveland.

He acted at once on the suggestion, and as Mrs. Cleveland rose he took her by the hand and led her to the front. Then broke forth a perfect tempest of cheering and a storm of hand clapping. This ended the formal part of the ceremonies. The ladies and gentlemen on the platform came forward and were introduced to the president and Mrs. Cleveland, Secretary and Mrs. Whitney, and Col. and Mrs. Lamont, and then the party returned to their carriages and were driven to the hotel. Their inspection of the exposition was deferred until morning.

The president's public reception was held last night at the St. James hotel, lasting two hours. President Cleveland, escorted by Judge Settle, and Mrs. Cleveland, escorted by C. H. Jones, entered the parlors at 8:30 o'clock, and when the reception ended at 10:30, over eight thousand persons had passed in line and shaken hands.

Terrible Mine Mortality.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 24.—Mine Inspector McDonald's report of the Second anthracite district for 1887, shows the following output of coal: Pennsylvania Coal company, 1,214,986 tons; Delaware & Hudson Canal company, 432,954 tons; Lehigh Valley Coal company, 861,644 tons; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company, 274,308 tons; miscellaneous coal companies, 2,357,623 tons; total, 5,043,515 tons. This is an increase of 810,000 tons over 1886. There occurred during the year fifty-two fatal and 146 non fatal accidents, leaving twenty-one widows and sixty-nine orphans. One employee was killed to every 261 employed, and one injured to every ninety-three employed.

Farmers' Mutual Insurance Companies.

AKRON, O., Feb. 24.—The state convention of the farmers' mutual insurance companies of Ohio concluded a three day session here to-day. Bucyrus is the next place of meeting, a year hence. Following are the officers: J. B. Hunter, of Dayton, president; J. H. Knap, of Republic, treasurer, and Angus McDonald, of Olenia, secretary. Vigorous resolutions were adopted protesting against the passage of house bill No. 127, which, the resolution set forth, will slaughter the farmers' mutual insurance companies, said now to represent risks to the amount of over $75,000,000.

Battle With Indians.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 24.—A fight occurred a few days ago at the little village of Batash in the wilds of the Bacatela mountains. Capt Enosco at the head of a number of Mexican troops and a large party of ranchers attacked the Indians who were fortified in a strong position. The Gaquis defended themselves bravely and the fight lasted from 2 p. m. till darkness shut out the combatants. In the morning it was found that the Indians had fled leaving ten of their dead. The Mexican loss was one killed and two wounded. Enosco is in hot pursuit of the Gaquis with a reinforcement of regulars.

Blinky Morgan's Dream.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 24.—"Blinky" Morgan is furious over the fact that the penitentiary officials have placed an additional guard in the annex where the prisoners condemned to be hung are confined. Morgan professes his disgust in profane ravings characterizing it as even a more watchful measure than the Ravenna officials used. A night or two ago he dreamed that he had seen Coughlin's family crying, and it has so worked on his mind that he sent a note to Mrs. Coughlin, wife of his fellow prisoner, asking whether it was true.

He Sends an Apology.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 24.—The captain of the British steamship North Erin, who, a short time ago threw overboard a deputy United States marshal who had attempted to serve the papers in a libel suit against the vessel's cargo on its arrival in Hampton Roads, has sent an apology from Liverpool. He called on Consul Russell, at Liverpool, and apologized for his action. The matter has become the subject of international inquiry. The captain considers that his arrest holds good. Consul Russell promises a full explanation by mail.

Canadian Parliament Opened.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 24.—The opening of parliament which was postponed last month in order to await a settlement of the fishery negotiations, took place to-day. Many of the members who had arrived here before the postponement was announced, have remained here ever since, and the government has come in for a good deal of criticism and censure. The treaty will be presented to parliament without delay as soon as the address to the speech from the throne is moved.

Horse Thief Martin Eludes Capture.

MITCHELL, Ind., Feb. 24.—Detective Voris, of Indianapolis, was here yesterday, in the interest of the Protective Horse Thief association, with a warrant for the arrest of O. J. Martin, charged with horse stealing, but failed to find him, as he is said to be in hiding. The detective has been to New Albany the first of the week, and alleges the finding of one horse sold by Martin, and has a clew for three others.

Mormons in Alabama.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 24.—The Mormons are again at work in this county. One old man named Shaw came to town a short time ago, and had money orders to the amount of $300 cashed, which had been sent him from Utah. He has a large family of girls, and they all left for Salt Lake at once. Quite a number of converts has been made, and no doubt there will be more emigration soon.

Was Not His Fault.

PIERRE, Dak., Feb. 24.—Ex-Agent Swan, of the Cheyenne agency, passed north yesterday. He was reported short some $30,600, but now has evidence that the error was clerical. A suit was commenced against his bondsman, but the department has advised that Swan be assisted in straightening out the matter.

Defaulters Arrested.

MARION, O., Feb. 24.—County Treasurer Thomas Dickson and his deputy, Robert Beatty, were arrested late last night, charged with a $7,000 defalcation in the county funds. Dickson was released on $10,000 bond, but Beatty still languishes in jail.

Murat Halstead's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Murat Halstead, in an interview yesterday, said he believed Mr. Blaine to be sincere in his withdrawal. He thought Mr. Sherman was still in the lead as candidate for the nomination, but not sure of getting it.

A Restless Night.

SAN REMO, Feb. 24.—A bulletin says: The crown prince passed rather a restless night, on account of a slight increase of irritation in the trachea.

THE MOUND CITY GETS IT.

THE DEMOCRATS DECIDE TO MEET AT ST. LOUIS.

The Second Ballot of the Second Day's Session Settles It—The Time for Holding the Convention Changed to June 5—Industrial Reformers Nominate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The committee re-assembled in Willard's hall shortly after 10 o'clock with closed doors. There was a crowd of anxious workers from St. Louis, San Francisco, Chicago and New York, working in the lobby, and all sorts of rumors were afloat about changes in the prospects of each and all the leading cities, that had grown out of the conferences of the night.

As soon as the committee was called to order Mr. Scott offered a motion to lay aside pending business and consider a motion to change the date of meeting of the convention to an earlier date. This was defeated by a vote of 23 yeas, nays 24. Balloting for a place of meeting then began.

The first ballot resulted: Chicago 16; San Francisco, 17; St. Louis, 13; New York, 1.

After a recess of a few moments balloting for the place of holding the convention was resumed. The vote for St. Louis and Chicago stood as on the first ballot of the morning, but when the names of the territorial delegates were reached three of them, who had previously voted for San Francisco, changed to St. Louis, and this break, supplemented by a speech from Senator Gorman, in favor of St. Louis, started others in the same direction, so that when the result of the ballot was announced by the chair St. Louis had been unanimously selected.

Chairman Barnum, of Connecticut, was the first delegate from the states whose state was called that changed his vote from Chicago to St. Louis. Mr. Walsh, from Georgia, followed the lead of Mr. Barnum, and Mr. Gorman, who had previously favored San Francisco changed to St. Louis. Then followed other changes from delegates that had previously favored San Francisco or Chicago, until a motion of Mr. Gandy made the vote unanimous.

Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, then moved to substitute June 5 for July 3, and this was carried by a vote of 23 to 17, Mr. Frather, the delegate from Missouri not voting.

After this question had been decided the committee adopted a call which is practically the same as that adopted by the committee of 1884.

After appointing a committee and after a few other unimportant proceedings, adjourned.

The mayor of St. Louis has sent the following message to President Cleveland in Florida:

"President Cleveland, Jacksonville, Fla.:
"I congratulate you and the Democracy on the time and location of the National convention at St. Louis. It means, in my opinion, that the fight will be made squarely on the principles so clearly, forcibly and courageously enunciated in your message."
"D. P. FRANCIS."

It will be remembered that the Republican National convention is fixed for June 19, at Chicago.

The Industrial Reform Party.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—After a series of very disorderly sessions of the Industrial Reform party—forty-five men and four women—a presidential ticket has been agreed upon as follows: A. E. Redstone, of California, for president, and J. A. Calvin, of Kansas, for vice president.

This is not the same party that nominated Mrs. Belva Lockwood for the presidency in 1884, but it is its legitimate political heir and successor, and Mrs. Lockwood is numbered among its originators and founders, although she is not participating in the present convention.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The house was called to order by Mr. Clark, its clerk, who announced the forced absence of the speaker, and on motion of Mr. Mills, of Texas, S. S. Cox, of New York, was unanimously elected speaker pro tem. amid a round of applause.

HELP FOR THE SUFFERERS.

Provisions by the Carload Going to Mount Vernon.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Feb. 24.—Carloads upon carloads of provisions are coming every hour, but they are all needed. The money relief is not prompt enough, and unless the people contribute at once there will be much suffering.

The various relief committees have been thoroughly organized and are doing a noble work. There is some talk of erecting large barracks in the center of the town where the homeless may live until they can obtain better accommodations. Hundreds of workingmen are arriving with every train and more are needed.

There will be steady employment for at least 5,000 laborers for the next month or two. The weather remains mild, but a storm would cause untold suffering. Large money contributions are needed at once.

A Building Crushed by Snow.

PESHIGO, Wis., Feb. 24.—Newton skating rink, which was recently converted into stores, collapsed last evening, killing and injuring the four workmen engaged upon it at the time. Their names are: Richard Morey, aged sixty, killed, leaves a family in poor circumstances; Joseph L. Newton, aged sixty-five, hurt internally; Joseph Newton, aged twenty-one, thigh broken; William Ponko, aged twenty, chest crushed. It is impossible to tell at present whether Joseph Newton and Ponko will recover. The rink was fifty by one hundred feet. The crash was caused by the great weight of snow on the roof.

A Gigantic Meteor.

MONMOUTH, Ill., Feb. 24.—Last night a terrific roar or explosion was heard here, and the walls and windows of many buildings were perceptibly jarred. The sky was lighted up with what seems to have been a monster meteor, which traveled from southeast to northwest. The explosion occurred shortly after it had passed this place. Residents of neighboring towns report a similar experience. It is not yet known where the meteor fell.

OLD SOLDIERS.

Grand Army Campfire at Indianapolis. Meeting of Union Veterans.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 24.—The ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army, department of Indiana, was held here yesterday, and there was a monster campfire last night as a part thereof. The reports of the department commander, Rev. Ira G. Chase, and other officers showed 23,175 members in good standing, an increase of 9,876, and the total number, not including 1,269 suspensions, who, under the rules, are still connected with the order. Total receipts, $8,837.31; expenditures, $6,818.98. Total assets of the order, $5,261.33. Total number of posts in good standing, 476. Eleven disbanded posts were reorganized during the year, and seventeen posts made a surrender. During the afternoon a large amount of routine business was transacted.

Preceding the assembly there was a parade of the streets, the visiting delegates being escorted by the local posts, and it was the largest demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in the city.

The state convention of the Women's Relief corps also met, the session being held in one of the legislative chambers of the state capitol building. The Indianapolis division, headed by Mrs. Flora Wulschner, reported 108 corps, against thirty-two for South Bend, and this is the relative strength of the opposing factions. During the year fifty-three new corps were added to the Indianapolis division, and four to South Bend.

Union Veterans at Youngstown, Ohio.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 24.—The second National encampment of the Union Veteran league began its session here yesterday. The organization is composed of soldiers, sailors and marines of the Union army who volunteered for a term of three years and were honorably discharged for any cause after a service for at least two continuous years. No drafted person or substitute is eligible to membership. Though only two years old, the organization has already nineteen encampments, with a membership of over four thousand.

The visiting veterans were welcomed with the booming of cannon, and flags and banners displayed on every side, and tendered the hospitality of the city by Mayor Steele; National Commander George B. Chambers, of Pittsburg, making an eloquent response. After a parade in the afternoon the encampment began its session, transacting only routine business until 6 o'clock, when they adjourned and were banqueted by the local encampment. Adjutant-General Short, of Pittsburg, states that the encampment will not adjourn before Friday, and that the election of officers will be held. Among the prominent candidates for National commander is Congressman Harry White, of Indiana, Penn., who is judge advocate general of the organization.

Sabine Pass Jetties Successful.

ORANGE, Tex., Feb. 24.—Committees from Orange and Beaumont, assisted by Capt. P. Brandt, bar pilot, made 400 soundings yesterday on the bar at the entrance of Sabine pass harbor. The least depth of water found between jetties from the outside to the inside of the bar was eleven feet at ordinary tide. A brisk norther having been blowing for two days, the water was found to be fifteen feet deep at the south end of the east jetty and at the buoy. This shows an increase in depth of one foot, the buoy having been placed in fourteen feet of water. The depth of the water on the bar has increased over five feet since the jetties were constructed.

Jim Cummins' Pal Free.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—A nolle prosequi was entered yesterday in the case of Dan Moriarity, indicted with Fred. Wittrock, George Weaver and M. W. Haight, for the robbery of the Adams express car on the Frisco railway, October 25, 1886, and he is now free. Wittrock, alias Jim Cummins, took Moriarity into his confidence while planning the raid. After the robbery $1,500 was sent from Dallas, Tex., to Moriarity to keep him still. He agreed to give evidence for the state, when he was located by a reporter named Galoin, and it has been known from the first that he would not be prosecuted.

A Ghastly Find.

WELLSVILLE, O., Feb. 24.—While laborers were removing the debris from the cellar of the Odd Fellows' hall at Augusta, the scene of the recent conflagration, they discovered a human skull and a portion of the cervical vertebrae of a human body. Search was instituted for the body, but it had been reduced to ashes by the fire. Who the victim was is a mystery. It is thought he was a tramp who gained entrance through a cellar door, and, going to sleep was crushed and burned when the upper floors fell.

Ball Player Killed by an Umpire.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 24.—The university students played a game of base ball yesterday, during which J. C. Johnson, aged twenty-one, was killed by the umpire, Benjamin Magill. Johnson had run the bases, but Magill declared him out for not touching the home plate. A dispute arose and Magill hit Johnson over the head with a base ball bat, crushing the skull. Magill escaped and is believed to be hiding in the mountains. Deputy sheriffs are searching for him.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 24.—The arrest of Postmaster Fleury, of Paso Del Norte, charged with robbing the mails, and smuggling goods into Mexico, has led to startling developments. The last is the arrest of Albert Kahn, of Kahn Brothers, large importers in Paso Del Norte, on the charge of receiving stolen goods from Fleury. Warrants are out for the arrest of other persons implicated. It is believed that the aggregate of thefts, if known, would reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Local Option in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 24.—The combination local option and high license bill passed the senate to-day by a vote of 12 to 6. The Republicans voted in the affirmative and Democrats in the negative. The measure now awaits the signature of the governor.

The Tally Sheeters.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 24.—Charley Blackburn was on the stand in the tally sheet trial this morning. His testimony was unimportant, covering no new ground.

The Prohibitionists of Louisville are the first in the field with a candidate for Congress. They have nominated Judge M. J. Polk.

The Republicans of the Lexington Congressional district will hold a convention on the 10th of April to select delegates to the National Convention at Chicago, and also to choose a district elector.

GOVERNOR BUCKNER has been petitioned to pardon Grant Pugh who is in jail at Flemingsburg under sentence to the penitentiary for ten years for rape. Pugh is very low with consumption and rheumatism.

KENTUCKY ORATORS are in demand. Cincinnati called in Senator Berry, the "Tall Sycamore of the Licking," to orate on Washington's Birthday. When it comes to entertaining a crowd the eloquent gentleman from Newport can be relied on every time.

PLEASE listen to the Republican organs of Ohio shrieking that the State Treasury is bankrupt. That is what the Enquirer said during the last campaign. At that time they called it "a Democratic lie." Now they confess its truth. The serious question to the people of Ohio is whether the present Republican management can reform the situation—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Greenup Gazette says the Republicans of that county will insist on Colonel W. J. Worthington making the fight in this district for Congress. It will no doubt require a great deal of "insisting" to get Colonel Worthington or any one else to enter the race, if they take into due consideration the amount of money that will have to be forthcoming to give them any show at all of election. Judge Thomas has had enough of it.

THE Manufacturer's Record, of Baltimore, recently entered upon its thirteenth volume. No paper in the country has done more to develop the South and advance the prosperity of that section of this great country. It has been a zealous worker in the cause, and we believe it is justly entitled to a large share of the credit for acquainting the world with the wonderful resources of the South. The Record deserves the great increase in its circulation and advertising patronage it is enjoying.

COLONEL W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE brings encouraging news for the Democrats from New England. He was called to Providence, R. I., a few days ago to deliver one of his eloquent addresses. The Washington correspondent of the Courier-Journal says: "Colonel Breckinridge is delighted with what appears to him to be the spirit of New England people with relation to the revenue question. They are a fine lot of people up that way, he says, and they take the right view of the tariff question. Throughout the manufacturing districts the tariff for revenue theory is popular, and they are pleased with the President's last message. At Providence, he says, a Republican of influence in the State told him that though he had never voted any but the Republican ticket in his life, he was now for Cleveland, and believed they would carry Rhode Island for him."

GREAT minds will differ. Our esteemed contemporary the Daily Republican does not think this country needed any Fisheries Treaty with England, and seized the opportunity in a recent issue to belittle and abuse President Cleveland and the Democratic party. However, the Republican Senate seems to think better of this Fisheries Treaty, and will very likely ratify it. The Canadians are not satisfied with the treaty, and think this country got the best of them in the matter. The Toronto Mail says: "Substantially the Americans have won their case, and the Canadian fisherman receive no sort of equivalent for the concession made by them."

The Empire, the Government organ, says: "Grumblers will no doubt find fault with details, but reasonable men on both sides of the line will rejoice that a question giving rise to so much international feeling and good will, which ought to prevail between people having such intimate intercourse, will again hold sway."

The Daily Press, of Lexington, says the following is a copy of a note picked up on the streets of this city several days ago: Dear—the reason I didn't lift when you left in selecting your valentine yesterday was because I had a bile on my face and can't lift, or I lift she'll bust. But I love you, bile or no bile, lift or no lift, bust or no bust.

Religious Notes.

Rev. Fred D. Hale baptized seventeen persons at his church in Louisville the other day.

The Courier-Journal says Elder E. L. Powell is zealously building up the First Christian Church.

There were fifty-four additions last Sunday to the Central Presbyterian Church of Louisville.

Dr. J. H. Young, of Winchester, is holding a revival in the Broadway M. E. Church, South, of Louisville.

At Newport, fifty conversions have been made during the progress of the German Salem M. E. Church revival.

Rev. Green Clay Smith has closed one of the most successful meetings ever held at Glasgow. About seventy additions.

Ninety-one persons have united with the Broadway Baptist Church of Louisville since January 1st. Dr. Tupper is pastor.

Ripley is in the midst of a big revival. About seventy-five additions to the M. E. Church, and twenty to the Christian Church.

Fifty persons have recently joined the Presbyterian Church at Louisville. Dr. Scudder, of Carlisle, is assisting in the services.

There twenty-one additions to the Walnut Street Baptist Church, of Louisville, last week. The pastor, Dr. Eaton, is holding the meeting.

In one Presbyterian Church of New York City, the congregation has wealth roughly estimated at over $600,000,000, and there are millionaires by the score. The sermons are rarely more than half an hour long.

Elder John I. Rogers is holding a very interesting protracted meeting at Liberty. He baptized eighteen persons a few days ago, including three of the lawyers of that place, the Circuit Clerk, and other prominent citizens.

The meetings at the Christian Church are developing a fine interest. Last night six persons were added to the membership, five by profession of faith and one by letter. There will be preaching again to-night at 7:30 o'clock. The song service will begin at 7:15. All are cordially invited to attend.

They say they have found gold over in Adams County, Ohio. It is very probably like some of the precious metal they are digging out in the neighborhood of Petersville.

FRANK POWERS, Esq., who was defeated for Congress a few years ago by Hon. W. H. Wadsworth, has rented a house on Forest avenue and will take up his residence in this city.

In renewing his subscription J. H. Morrow, of Coatsville, Mo., writes that he is "crawling up into old age some," but he intends to read the BULLETIN "as long as he is able to see a letter."

In consideration of $200 cash, J. D. Peed and wife have conveyed an undivided two-sevenths interest in seventy-nine acres and three rods of land on the North Fork to Abraham Cracraft. Mrs. Lizzie Jefferson has sold to same party one-seventh interest in same land for $100.

An exchange of St. Joseph, Mo., says: "Mr. Will Jenkins, late secretary to Mr. Flynn, General Division Roadmaster for the Great Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific road, has severed his connection with that company, and will accept a similar position under Mr. D. A. Garwood, assistant to the General Manager of the St. Joseph, St. Louis and Santa Fe road in this city. Mr. Jenkins is a first-class stenographer." Mr. Jenkins is a son of Mrs. Julia Pickett, and brother of Mr. Perrine Jenkins who holds a position in the State National Bank.

COLONEL ASA R. BURGESS, of this city, has recently come into prominence as a breeder of fast trotting horses, by reason of the fact that he once owned the grandsire of Mikado, the present crack three-year-old. This grandsire was Mayflower, Jr., which was bred and raised by Mr. Burgess. Mayflower, Jr.'s going quality has asserted itself only in his grandcolts, a number of whom are now in the 2:20 list. Numerous letters have lately been exchanged between Kentuckians and New Yorkers, we understand, in respect to our fellow-townsmen as the breeder of this great sire.

The jury in the suit of the executors of E. D. Hutchcraft to recover $6,000 from the Standard Life Insurance Company has rendered a verdict in the United States Court at Cincinnati in favor of the plaintiffs for the full amount. Hutchcraft was found dead in Lake Michigan. His relatives claimed he was murdered, while the insurance company claimed he committed suicide. The jury decided that he came to his death by drowning. The deceased's home was at Paris, and he was in the Northwest on a visit when he met his death. The affair created a big sensation at the time.

Stock and Crops.

W. T. Overley, of Paris, paid to W. P. Haley over $10,000 for his crop of tobacco. —Brooksville Democrat.

In three days this week Woodward & Harbeson, of Lexington sold 239 head of horses for $122,140, an average of $512.

James Fitzgerald, of this city, has added another fine thoroughbred to his stable. At Woodward & Harbeson's sale at Lexington, he bought the bay mare Novelty, by New York, dam Polly by Clark's Tom Hal, for $1,000.

Farmers are beginning to prepare their tobacco plant beds. There is a general inquiry for Burley tobacco seed; they seem to be scarce. Many farmers will cause tobacco plants to grow where plants never grew before.—Flemingsburg True Blue Democrat.

At Josh Barton's sale at Millersburg, Alex. Daugherty, of Mayslick, bought the two-year-old gelding Hutsell, by Bourbon Belmont, for $110. Thomas Best, of Helena, bought Lady B., two years old, by Bourbon Belmont, for $195. D. T. Mitchell bought Lady Collins, four years old, by Bourbon Belmont, for $175.

If all reports are true there is great danger of the farmers' overloading the tobacco market next year to such an extent that the crop will prove comparatively worthless to planters. From every section comes news of the big crop that is to be planted. The recent decline in prices should be noted by growers. An average crop only should be grown.

A SOUTH CAROLINA FEUD.

Two Prominent Families of Blythewood Have Hot Times for a While.

COLUMBIA, S. C. Feb. 24.—Blythewood, S. C., is stirred up over a war between the families of Hogan and Hoffman, the most prominent people in the town. The origin of the trouble was the seduction of Miss Hattie Hogan, an eighteen-year-old girl, by Thomas Hoffman. Miss Hogan's father, at the point of a pistol, made Hoffman promise to marry the girl, but on the day set for the wedding he disappeared. Hogan searched for his daughter's betrayer for two weeks and then returned to Blythewood to hold one of the other Hoffman's responsible. One of the brothers of Hoffman is mayor of the town. Wednesday Hogan held a pistol to Mayor Hoffman's head while he horsewhipped him. Then went five miles to a mill where Jack Hoffman, another brother, was found and while a friend of Hogan covered Hoffman with a rifle, the enraged father wore out a whip on him. By this time the Hoffman family was aroused and went gunning for Hogan, and surrounded his house. The citizens telegraphed to Winnsboro for aid, and a sheriff and posse was sent to Blythewood. The judge at Winnsboro telegraphed Mayor Hoffman, not knowing he was engaged in the quarrel, to preserve the peace at all hazards. The sheriff arrived in time to arrest the mayor and prevent blood shed.

A Boy Brutally Murdered.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 24.—Last evening Polk Hamel, a boy nineteen years of age, was shot through the left temple in a house in the outskirts of Gadsden, Ala., by an unknown man who made his escape. The murder was a most brutal one. The entire top of Hamel's head was torn away. There is no clue to the guilty party.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

The Investigation of Affairs at Morehead and in Rowan County by the Legislature About Completed.

The Rowan County investigation has been in progress at Frankfort two or three days this week, and is about completed, so far as the examination of witnesses is concerned. From a special to Louisville papers, the following is taken:

Colonel Ernest McPherson, of Louisville, was in charge of the troops at Morehead during the sitting of the court there in August, and testified to the fact of finding a number of persons in and about Morehead armed, and of their having been disarmed at the order of Judge Cole; of the arrival from Mt. Sterling of a number of guns, known as the Z. T. Young's guns, though Mr. Young did not claim them at that time. The guns had been addressed to Mr. Young at Mt. Sterling, but this address had been erased and the guns reshipped to Morehead, to Andy White. He said that while Judge Cole was for the most part fair, he at times discriminated in favor of the Tolliver side. He recapitulated the incidents of the clash between Judge Cole and the military over the former's order that the guns captured by order of the Adjutant General should be turned over to the court. One reason for his refusal to turn the guns over to Sheriff Hogg was that, such an action would have been a virtual arming of one wing of the Tolliver faction, while they disarmed the Logan men. He did not state this to Judge Cole, because he could avoid turning the guns over by simply holding himself under strict obedience to the Adjutant General's orders. He stated that while he considered Judge Cole an amiable man, and probably thoroughly conscientious, his impression gathered during that court was that Judge Cole was a partisan to the Young or the Tolliver side. He based this estimate of partisanship on the fact that Judge Cole, while acting in the capacity of Circuit Judge of that district, associated intimately with Taylor Young; the fact that Judge Cole had said of Taylor Young, that he had done more than any ten men in the county to maintain the peace, when it was a notorious fact that Young was an incendiary; the fact that Judge Cole ruled almost invariably to suit Taylor Young, and other similar facts, such as coming to town with a party of Tolliverites; of permitting the Tolliver saloon to run at full blast, as he understood, without license, it being the source of much disaster.

Colonel McPherson was subjected to a severe and badgering cross examination by Judge Wadsworth, attorney for Judge Cole, who brought out the fact that while at Morehead, under orders to obey Judge Cole's orders, he (McPherson) had on more than one occasion refused to obey Judge Cole's orders in the matter of making arrests, and furnishing arms to arm the Sheriff.

Z. T. Young testified that at the election of August, 1886, he had been a candidate before the Democratic Convention for the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney, against Mr. Sallee, but withdrew before the convention because of the reports circulated about him. It was a very warm election, and every man hustled his best. The witness did what he could; he did not remember how much money he put in, but knows he took two "dolls" at it. Judge Cole contributed probably $400. This money went for the whole ticket, on which was Allie Young, Johnson and Hogg, the former two at least known as Tolliver's sympathizers.

Mr. Young detailed the story of the Logan boys, and the subsequent extermination of their murderers. He gave the story pretty much as it has been told many times, with a coloring somewhat darker for the exterminators than the popular telling has made it. He told further of the subsequent arrest of his boys and his inability to release them; of his effort to get soldiers sent to Rowan to prevent further murder; of a conversation with Boone Logan, in which Boone told him that, if he came to Morehead he would be killed between the depot and the court house. He said he went home and ordered one hundred guns, with the intention of arming his friends and storming Morehead. He shipped some of these to Morehead, and they were seized by the militia. The others, except two boxes, which were never opened, he has sold or given away to friends through the country. The soldiers sent to Rowan restored comparative order.

Mr. Young then went back to the beginning of the trouble in Rowan, and recited the story from beginning to end, telling this oft-told tale most graphically. On cross-examination Mr. Young stated that the election purse amounted to about $2,200, of which he contributed the larger half. Mr. Young said his intention in getting the guns was to arm his friends and keep him a little individual standing army while in attendance at court there; the purpose of the army being the protection of himself and his sons, who were on trial there. He did it as a matter of precaution, as if he had gone there unprotected, he would have been shot too full of holes to live by the Law and Order Club, which had exterminated the Tollivers.

Warren Alverson, said to be the wealthiest man in Rowan County, was on the grand jury in 1886, and they found about seventy indictments. Saw no partiality on the part of Judge Cole. Said that it was hard to tell the cause of the troubles and that the officials were timid.

Major McKee was in Morehead in August, 1885, 1886 and 1887; saw nothing unbecoming in the conduct of Judge Cole on the bench. Had several conversations with him. When the twenty guns and 1,000 rounds of ammunition were seized he asked Cole for instructions. He said they were for a Sheriff's posse, and were needed to arrest Keeton, who was near town and surrounded by armed friends. The Major had said that he would not have a battle between these men in sight of his camp, and would exceed his authority and go out and arrest Keeton. He went, but did not find him. Judge Cole said there shall be no conflict of authority between us, but I intend to see that guns are sent here, and the soldiers and nobody else shall have them without my orders. The Governor had written and telegraphed to seize the arms and keep them. The Major said he did not think the law could be enforced with the present corps of officials. He said he advised Judge Cole to secure board at Johnson's, as it was near camp. Taylor Young boarded and had frequent conversations with Cole. Met him at the train and said: "The Cottage Hotel and the Gault House are both open." The Judge said: "Of the two I should certainly choose the Cottage." This was a Tolliver stronghold, the Gault a Martin. He said that general rumor and what he had seen made him think the Judge deserved some censure.

Judge A. E. Cole was the last witness called. Said he was 49 years old; moved to Kentucky when he was 10 years old. Went to school in Manchester, Ohio, and taught in the Scioto Valley for seven years, moved to Fleming County, Ky., in 1865; was elected County Attorney in 1866, and again in 1870; Commonwealth's Attorney in 1874, and Circuit Judge in 1880 and '86. Has always been a Democrat. Attended all but two terms of Rowan Court. Sickness kept him at home then. Judge Halbert presided as special Judge upon these occasions. There had been no convictions in Rowan previous to his election as Commonwealth's Attorney. He sent two men to the penitentiary. He tried to get good grand and petit jurors, and to that end picked the best men in the county, and men in no way connected with the lawless characters. His Jury Commissioners were the best that could be obtained. Had tried to secure evidence against any of them being incompetent, and would have discharged them had he found it.

The Judge then went over the various killings in the county, and explained very satisfactorily that when it came to indicting them no testimony could be brought before the grand jury. Witnesses were afraid to give evidence, hence no indictments. Owing to the unfavorable newspaper comment he tried to get some men of State reputation to prosecute. Hon. C. J. Bronston could not come, and Mr. Caruth took charge. Upon the advice of the State officials Humphrey and Tolliver were permitted to leave the county as the best way to settle the trouble. He explained the straw bail charge satisfactorily.

In February, 1887, he saw danger of trouble and ordered the Sheriff to appoint 10 guards. One of them arrested a man named Pendulum as a suspicious character. He sent for an uncle named Harris and confessed that Dr. Henry Logan had hired him together with McClurg, Ray-barn and others, to assassinate Judge Cole and Allie and Taylor Young. These men were arrested and did not contradict Pendulum's testimony and were indicted for conspiracy and admitted to reasonable bail. The arrangement was to kill all three men as they went from the hotel to the court house. The Judge doubled the guard to protect the prisoners from mob violence. He had refused to nolle an indictment against Laban Logan for cutting some stock because the plaintiff had confessed his reason for asking it was because he was afraid of him. The Judge admitted that he had used the language charged in regard to Keeton, but said it had not prejudiced his case, and that he regretted a minute afterward that he had allowed his temper to get the best of him. His testimony was given in a clear, straightforward way that made a very favorable impression on his auditors.

FERDINAND OF BULGARIA.

THE ACTION OF AUSTRIA CONFUSES THE SITUATION.

Russia Not Likely to Consider it of Much Significance—All the Powers are Evidently Expecting War—Immense Preparations on the Russian Frontier—Notes.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The nice distinction drawn by Austria, in her admission that the presence of Prince Ferdinand in Bulgaria is illegal, while holding that his election by the sobranje as prince of Bulgaria was perfectly legal, savors very strongly of quibbling, and will scarcely be accepted by Russia as throwing much light on the question of Ferdinand's right to perform the functions of rulership in the sultan's vassal state of Bulgaria.

If the Cobourg prince's election was legal it would seem that his right to exercise the authority conveyed to him is beyond dispute and by logical deduction his presence in Bulgaria appears necessary. But, unfortunately the paradoxical decision of the Austrian government muddles the situation more than ever and greatly increases the temperature of the already hot water of tribulation in which the bracelet wearing prince is immersed to his neck.

Russia is committed beyond retraction to a policy which has for its object the ejection of Prince Ferdinand from Bulgaria, and the occupation and government of the country by Russia even at the expense of a colossal war. The peaceful asseverations of Prince Bismarck, which found few implicit believers, have long since been forgotten in the succeeding tide of events, which gave them the lie, and the equivocal reply of Austria to Russia's request for a ruling, so to speak, on the Bulgarian question was without inspiration by Germany. Scarcely more ingenious than Austria is the English government in replying to the interrogatories of Mr. Labouchere concerning the extent to which England is committed to the support of the continental allies.

Sir James Ferguson may have been perfectly truthful in his answers, but his manner and the matter of his remarks were not of a character calculated to inspire perfect confidence. Mr. Gladstone, himself above resorting to the shallow device of tergiversation and ambiguity, was good enough to express his sincere belief in the government's statement in the house last night, but there were other statesmen present who left the precincts of parliament at the close of the sitting with the conviction that the government's story was but half told.

French Troops on the Italian Frontier. ROME, Feb. 24.—The Esercito Italiano calls attention to the massing of French troops on the Italian frontier, and says the government is making the necessary counter measures and arranging to increase the militia and the cadres of the territorial army.

The present French administration may be inclined to peace, yet is aware that it will have to yield to the war pressure if Russia strikes. Therefore pressure is necessary. All the powers evidently expect war, while Bismarck hopes to stave it off by permitting Russia to attempt a reorganization of Bulgaria in her interest without the aid of an army of occupation. That is just what Russia failed in doing ten years ago and she is not likely to fool herself again.

Movements on the Austrian Frontier. CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 24.—News from Philippopolis says that a regiment has been ordered from Slivno to Bourgas, and it is expected that part of the Philippopolis garrison will also be ordered there. It is believed that Bourgas and Varus will be fortified. Russia would protest against the fortification of Varus under the Berlin treaty.

That is, under the treaty, all frontier and coast defenses were to be destroyed and remain so. The treaty left Turkey utterly defenseless against Russia.

Immense Preparations. BERLIN, Feb. 24.—Reports from the frontier say that the movements of Russian troops are ceasing westward of Moscow and Kieff. At these places the massing of troops continues. The transport and commissariat service in Poland is becoming worse, being now insufficient for the bare necessities of the troops.

There is not much question that Russia's entire standing army is within striking distance of the frontier, and that her reserves are being concentrated in the interior.

Foreign Notes.

Hope is entertained that the crown prince is improving. Prince Ferdinand congratulates his holiness upon his jubilee, and expresses a desire to assist in the propagation of Catholicism in Bulgaria.

In the common official assurance was given that England had entered into no arrangement with Italy, nor done anything inimical to friendly relations with France. Gen. Boulanger will issue a protest against the use of his name for election purposes. His friends assert that the nomination of Gen. Boulanger for the chamber of deputies is a reactionary maneuver intended to discredit him.

A North Carolina Shooting Affray.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 24.—In Jackson township, Monday night, Noel Eastman became involved in a quarrel with the wife of his cousin, Noah Eastman. Mrs. Eastman's father, one Battoms, hearing the trouble, entered the house, and seeing Noel, who had a warrant for his arrest, he fired at him, breaking his thigh bone. The firing then became promiscuous, ten or twelve shots being exchanged. Battoms was struck by two bullets, and a seven-year-old child was fatally wounded. Battoms is sixty-seven years old, and has been dodging the sheriff of Nash county for three years. Both he and Eastman have partisans, and new trouble is expected.

Defaulter Lucas' Settling.

WAPAKONETA, O., Feb. 24.—The Lucas $12,000 has at last arrived from Toronto, Can., after being on its way five days. The people began to feel uneasy about its coming, but now everybody feels satisfied. The money will be placed to the credit of the bondsmen.

Latham Will Stay With the Browns.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—Walter Latham, the Browns' old third baseman, has signed for another season in St. Louis. It is now settled that Latham, Comiskey, O'Neill, Robinson, King and Boyle, of the old team, will play here next season.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a terse and spicy manner.

Prohibitionists of Rhode Island put a state ticket in the field.

Hillsboro, O., chased two Mormon elders out of town.

Frank Hippensted, brakeman at Akron, O., old story.

Sunday's storm also did great damage at Heilman, Ind.

Michigan Republican clubs have formed a state league.

It is settled that Libby prison will be removed to Chicago.

Luke Schaffer will be hanged at Lock Haven, Pa., April 4.

Adams county, Ohio, claims to have struck gold in paying quantities.

Old man Daniels, of Wooster, O., beat his aged wife to death with a shovel.

C. F. Welting, the absconder from Millersburg, O., was captured in Detroit.

Unknown persons beat Nathan Hankins to death with clubs near Fairmont, Ill.

Buddell Sleeper, pioneer of Lafayette, Ind., died Wednesday, aged eighty-one years.

Valentine Gulcher, well known citizen of Grand Island, Ill., was murdered and robbed by unknown men.

George Cartright won the twenty-four hour go-as-you-please race at New York, covering 128 1-4 miles.

It is said that Banker Flood, of San Francisco, lost $10,000,000 in Chicago wheat speculation. He is a mental wreck.

O. P. Adams, a lawyer of Chattanooga, Tenn., was identified as a horse thief who was wanted in Florida. He escaped arrest by fleeing the city.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad company has been sued for $25,000 damages by Telegraph Operator Edward A. Randall, of Kansas City, because the company placed his name on the blacklist.

In a case at Bismarck, Dak., to test the local option or prohibition law passed at the late election, which was carried by sixty-four counties, it was decided that local option should reign supreme in those counties and that the liquor traffic must be abolished.

New York and Minneapolis capitalists have revived the project of building a canal from the head of Big Bay DeNoc in Lake Michigan to South Bay in Lake Superior, and a survey will be made. It is estimated that the construction will cost more than $5,000,000.

The turbulent state of affairs in regard to the idle Rocky Fork railroad laborers at Billings, Mont., brought $3,000 from New York by wire to relieve the city from danger. The financial situation is serious, as the defaulting road owes thousands of dollars to merchants. Seventy thousand dollars of liens have already been filed in the county clerk's office.

The Wagner Palace Car company and the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway company filed their answer in the Federal court at Chicago to the bill of the Pullman Palace Car company, which seeks to restrain an infringement by the Wagner company of the vestibule train. The defendants deny that Sessians was the original inventor of the device.

The celebration of Washington's birthday at Chicago and Detroit was notable. At the former city the Michigan club banqueted a thousand guests. Hon. W. L. Palmer was toastmaster. The speakers were Senator Hewley, ex-Senator Harrison, Congressman McKinley and Cannon. Senator Sherman was unable to be present, owing to a cold. At Chicago the Union League club banqueted to the number of 2,500. Hon. Chauncey M. Depew and Justice Harlan were the principal speakers.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Fair weather, followed by light rains, light to fresh variable winds, warmer, followed by colder.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Quotations for the Money, Stock, Produce and Cattle Market for Feb. 23.

NEW YORK.—Money 2 3/4 per cent. Exchange quiet. Governments steady.

Currency sixes, 120 bid; four coupons, 125 1/2 bid; four-and-a-half, 107 1/2 bid.

The stock market opened firm, and during the first forty-five minutes of business prices steadily advanced under the lead of Richmond and West Point Terminal. This stock was exceptionally strong for some unknown cause. At 10:45 the advance ranged from 1/4 to 3/4 per cent., but since that time prices have reached 1/4 to 3/4 per cent., and are only barely steady at this writing.
